Women's Political Empowerment

Please come out to hear Dr. Joyce Green and Dr. Darlene Juschka discuss the barriers to political action and representation that women face in the Canadian Context. They will consider how these barriers diverge dramatically when colonialism and racism are intersected with patriarchal relations in a capitalist order. Drawing on insights from the international women's movement and from their activist experiences, they will pose some basic analytic, conceptual, and organizational tools women can use in their personal lives or in public political matters.

Please note that there is no cost for either of this event, but advanced registration is required. Registration spots are limited so please register early to ensure your attendance. Registration closes October 6, 2010, at 4:30 p.m.
